INCENDIARIES THOUGHT TO HAVE BURNED HOME OF CLARENCE REED

There Is an Ellen Jensen Missing From Minnesota

PORTLAND, Oregon, February 9.—J. C. Kennock, a resident of Portland, who came here from Red Wing, Minnesota, expresses the belief that the Ellen Jensen, whose trunk is in a warehouse in San Francisco, is the victim of the Mount Tamalpais tragedy.

Kennock says that an Ellen Jensen, who lived at his home several years ago in Red Wing, would fill the description of the murdered girl. She was by disposition a tramp, a wanderer.

MT. TAMALPAIS STRANGE STORY IS TOLD BY YOUTH MURDER IS NOT YET SOLVED

HOPEFUL NOW JEWELERS MAY SUPPLY THE LINK

Wire Sent to Topeka, Kansas, Asking About Missionary Missing There

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—The San Francisco police have not relaxed their efforts to solve the Tamalpais murder mystery, notwithstanding the false clues which have been taken so long to run down, and today several features of the case were looked up and communications acted upon.

A wire received through a news bureau to the effect that a Eureka jeweler had repaired the watch found on the body on the mountainside caused Captain of Detectives Anderson to telegraph to the Chief of Police asking for further details as well as the name of the person who had left the time piece to be fixed.

NEW WATCH MARKINGS.

It was understood from the original wire that a telegram had been sent to Chief of Police Martin by the officials at Eureka containing the name, but up to noon this had not been received. An additional marking has, however, been observed upon the watch, and a bulletin will be prepared by Detective Sergeant Prohl containing all of the jeweler's figures on the time piece, and this will be circulated broadcast throughout the country.

MISSING MISSIONARY.

A wire was sent today to the police at Topeka, Kansas, inquiring more minutely into the disappearance of Mrs. Cavender, the missionary, concerning which a news dispatch was received several days ago.

The officers are still pursuing their investigations, and communications received from citizens who believe they can give information are carefully looked into and every lead which can give a possible hint of a connection with the tragedy is followed up.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—With each passing day the mystery surrounding the identity of the dead woman whose sun-bleached bones were found near a lonely trail on Mt. Tamalpais deepens. Several women have come forward with more or less disconnected stories, but each has proven of little value to the authorities who are endeavoring to run down each and every clue in the hope of discovering the murderer.

The story of Mrs. Eleanor Littlefield, a manicurist, who with her assistant, Mrs. M. N. Evans, yesterday identified the skeleton and jewelry worn by the dead woman as the body and ornaments of a Miss E. Jensen, a former pupil at Mrs. Littlefield's school, has been completely exploded by the appearance of the so-called Miss Jensen herself. The girl, whose name was Claudine Duhrsen, has since been married and is now Mrs. Albert Koch. She lives at the Victor apartments, Douglas and Correll avenue. Mrs. Koch is greatly incensed over the stories told of her and denials emphatically that she ever had a watch or bracelet such as Mrs. Littlefield has described so graphically.

IS MARRIED NOW.

"The dead girl is most certainly not I," said Mrs. Koch. "In the first place, I am not dead. In the second place, I never had any of the jewelry found on the mountainside that has been recognized by Mrs. Littlefield and Mrs. Evans.

"In spite of what a certain man—said, I never had a sister-in-law in this country. I am here alone except for my husband. He is

Strychnine Given by Son-in-Law Caused Swope's Death, Says Jury

WHETHER WITH FELONIOUS INTENT IS NOT SAID

Capsule of Strychnine, Says the Coroner's Jury, Caused Millionaire's Death

Only Took Jurors an Hour to Reach Verdict When Taking of Testimony Was Concluded

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9.—"Colonel Swope came to his death by reason of strychnine administered in a capsule by Dr. B. C. Hyde, but whether by felonious intent or not we, the jury, are unable to say."

This verdict was rendered at 1 o'clock this afternoon by the coroner's jury at Independence, after being out one hour.

It lacked just a few minutes of being an hour after the end of the inquest when it was announced that the jury was ready to report.

After the six jurors had taken their seats Coroner Zewert asked:

"Gentlemen, have you arrived at a verdict?"

"We have," replied Samuel H. Woodson, the foreman, who then read the document.

"We have," he said, "that Swope came to his death, find from the evidence laid before us and from our knowledge, that said deceased came to his death by strychnine poisoning, and we believe said strychnine poison was administered in a capsule at 8:30 a. m., of the day he died, by the direction of Dr. B. C. Hyde, whether with felonious intent, we, the jury, are unable to decide."

DR. HYDE PRESENT.

The reading of the verdict caused Dr. Hyde involuntarily to start forward in his chair.

Inquiring to John M. Cleary, one of his attorneys, Dr. Hyde asked: "What does that mean?"

Mr. Cleary explained that the jury was unable to determine from the evidence presented whether there was any intent to kill or not.

Dr. Hyde nodded.

"I see," he said.

That was all the comment he made.

GO TO LUNCH.

Dr. Hyde and his attorneys soon were walking down the street on their way to luncheon. A crowd of several hundred persons followed, talking of the case and predicting what the future steps might be.

Prosecutor Conkling refused to say what might be the course of his office.

TODAY'S SESSION.

Into the superlative of intensely went the Swope inquest today, into the darkness of conjecture and mystery was again carried the death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope. For Dr. B. C. Hyde, physician to Colonel Swope on the day he died, prescribed a digestive capsule which preceded death only a short while. Hyde is to testify to the coroner's jury and refused even to be sworn.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

The scene lasted only a few moments but into that time more excitement was crowded than in two days' testimony. It was a space of time in which pulses beat with excitement and in which stenographers forgot everything else except to direct their every attention to the three figures which may determine an interest in the case of the death of

Daughter of Millionaire Swope and her husband. The latter is accused by a coroner's jury of administering strychnine to his father-in-law.

SEINE RISING AGAIN SCARES PARISIANS

Authorities Do Not Think There Is Any Danger of a Repetition of Former Horrors

PARIS, Feb. 9.—The River Seine has risen nine inches here during the twenty-four hours ending at noon today. The hydrographic department predicts a rise until Friday.

Although confident there is no danger of a repetition of the recent disaster, the authorities today are taking measures to prevent any such danger.

Water from the sewers is again pouring into the conduits drowning the electric light and power lines in the vicinity of the Place de l'Opera.

Governor Haskell Defends Himself at Hearing

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 9.—Governor Haskell testified in his own defense before the legislative investigating committee that met here today to consider the merits of the charges contained in a resolution introduced in the legislature recently to the effect that the governor and other state officials were responsible for alleged irregularities in the handling of public funds.

RIOTER'S MISSILE FELL SPECTATOR

Elijah Moore of Berkeley Injured by Flying Brick in Midst of Melee

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—Elijah Moore, of 2162 Center street, Berkeley, was injured by a missile hurled at him by an unknown assailant in the midst of a small riot at Third and Bryant streets late last night. The culprit escaped, although pursued by a crowd of citizens and policemen, after a volley of shots had been fired at him.

Moore was on his way to the ferry and was on a Third street car when a colored man became involved in a dispute with several citizens. The conductor stopped the car and all alighted. As the man was walking away he picked up a brick and hurled it at Moore, who was standing at one side. The missile struck him on the head and he fell to the pavement.

Citizens took up the chase after the culprit, and Sergeant Birdsell and Policeman Charles Maher joined in the pursuit. Both Birdsell and Maher fired their weapons, but the man finally escaped by crossing lots and could not be located.

Moore was able to proceed to his home.

YOUNG BRIDE OF THREE WEEKS IS GONE

Young Groom Fears Bride Has Been Kidnaped by Admirer

RUMOR GIRL HAS RUN AWAY WITH AFFINITY

She Had "Soul-Love" With Large Brown Eyes

BERKELEY, Feb. 9.—Wedded only three weeks ago to A. J. Bush, a well known resident of the city of Albany, Mrs. Bush, who before her marriage was Miss Lida Cook, a belle of that city, has disappeared, and it is the belief of neighbors that she has eloped with an affable, bushy-haired man, who has asked the police to help him find his bride of three weeks, believes that the girl was kidnaped. He blames a mysterious stranger who was seen by neighbors about the house several times in the past two weeks.

NOTIFIED AUTHORITIES.

Bush has notified Marshal Chris Miller of Albany and the Berkeley police of his loss, and declares that he will engage in a search of every city on the coast to find his bride. He is an officer of the crew of one of the vessels of the Alaska Packers' fleet, and will spend the time from now to the starting north of the packers in solving the mystery of her disappearance. He believes that she has been kidnaped and is being held prisoner somewhere in this state by her captors.

Neighbors in Albany have a far different theory to account for the disappearance of the young woman. A Miss Cook was one of the belles of the city, and was one of the most popular members of the younger social set. Her marriage was one of the events of the winter months, and following a short honeymoon, the young couple resided in a cottage built for them on Sannago avenue.

LOVED A STRANGER.

Girl friends of the young bride tell of her love for a stranger with brown eyes, and of her continually talking of him. This was several months ago, and was followed by what appeared to be a sudden break in her relations with the man with brown eyes. Shortly after she married Bush, who is blue-eyed and fair of complexion, and the former associates of the girl declare that she did it to spite her former admirer.

MYSTERY IN CASE.

Considerable mystery surrounds the case, as she took nothing with her on leaving her home. When Bush returned to his residence last Saturday, he found the door unlocked, and the place in some disorder. His bride was not there, and after waiting several hours, he became alarmed and went to Mrs. Richard Higuera, the step-mother head girl. Higuera knew nothing of her disappearance, and since then he has been searching in vain to find any trace of her.

MAY BE ONE OF WARRING CHINESE TONGS

Handsomeness $12,000 Piedmont Home in Ashes as Result of Feud, Believe Police

HOUSE WAS VACANT AT TIME FLAMES BROKE OUT

Servants Had Left and Reeds Were on Visit—Fire Discovered by Neighbors

A fire which the Piedmont authorities have every reason to believe was incendiary last night destroyed the $12,000 home of Clarence Reed, an Oakland attorney and son of George W. Reed, who recently represented the On Yick tong in its fights against the On Yees, and the police are now investigating the matter with the view to fixing responsibility for the affair.

Reed, who with his wife was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Dever McLaren at their home on Waverly street, near the Reed residence, were notified last night of the fire and arrived at the house in an automobile just in time to see the place fall in ruins.

HOUSE WAS CLOSED.

The fire started from inside the basement and the house has been closed for three days. The servants left the residence three days ago, locking the doors, and at that time there was no fire anywhere in the house from which the flames might have started. The Piedmont authorities are at a loss to explain the affair.

HAD CHINESE ENEMIES.

Reed has incurred the bitter enmity of the On Yees in his fight against them on behalf of the On Yick Tong, which has been dragged through the courts until a truce was declared between the powerful Chinese secret societies during Chinese new year. Vague threats, coming in a roundabout manner, have reached the atorney from several quarters, and a though nothing definite has been heard or disclosed connecting the Chinese with the fire, the Piedmont authorities will make an examination of the affair. Reed refused to speak on the subject, stating that he had not given the matter consideration, and had no evidence to connect anyone with the fire, if it were, as the officials believe, started by an enemy.

DISCOVERED BY NEIGHBOR.

The fire was discovered last night by Carl H. Nichol, the architect, who resides near the place, and was passing on his way home. At this time the blaze had gained considerable headway and Nichol was unable to enter the house on account of the heat. He turned in an alarm and telephoned to the McLaren home to notify Reed of the trouble, after which he assisted the firemen in attempting to control the blaze.

ARGUMENT FOR ANNEXATION.

"This fire is a good argument for annexation to Oakland," stated Reed, "for if Piedmont were a part of Oakland the fire would be handled more adequately to handle such a blaze. The Piedmont department did what they could, but with their meager facilities it was almost useless. The same thing has happened several times and the local department is helpless."

The loss is partially covered by insurance, but Mrs. Reed lost a valuable collection of jewels and lace which were almost priceless, besides having endeared by associations. Arrangements will be made to rebuild the residence at once.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The National Geographic Society, which resolved at a meeting here yesterday to send an American expedition in search of the South Pole, confidently expects ample financial assistance from outside sources to warrant the expedition.

BANKS TO BACK COTTON
GROWING IN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Arrangements have been made with London and San Francisco banks to advance $500,000 to finance the planting and cultivation of this year's cotton crop in the Imperial valley. It is believed that the cotton area will approximate 50,000 acres.

About $100,000 will be expended in the establishment of ginneries, a compressor, an oil mill and a refinery. The ginneries will be scattered throughout the valley and the other plants will be located at El Centro.

A company composed solely of growers has been organized to build these plants, and through the financial arrangement with the banks the stockholders will be permitted to pay for their holdings with the product of their plantations.

Such studies have been made in the cotton industry in the Imperial valley in the last two years that it is now looked upon as one of the most important in Southern California. Figures gathered in the new district show that the profits from last year's crop which was largely experimental ran close to $30 an acre.

At the Portola Cafe in San Francisco the many features that are added to the already popular bill are creating a furor, judging from the spontaneous applause received by each on their appearance.

The new dance of La Estrellita, the famous Spanish dancer, is a novelty, the like of which has never been seen on the Pacific Coast. It seems hardly possible that she could present a more remarkable act than she has done in the past. The new member of her company makes it possible for her to present the great feature that nightly scores her great applause.

Edith Mote, the charming California cantatrice, the accomplished soloist, is also an extra added number.

The latest added feature is Amy Whaley, of the President's United States Marine Band of Washington, D. C. The sweet soprano soloist in her rendition of "Down on the Swanes River" demonstrates her ability as a great vocal artist.

Give attention to all the claims made for the different Pianos you will see when you are thinking of buying.

Every concern you visit is entitled to a fair hearing on the merits of the instruments it offers.

But before you buy demand proof of the worth of the Piano you decide to favor. Inquire regarding its reputation, ask to see its interior construction, test it thoroughly for tone, and satisfy yourself regarding its durability. Look as carefully into its value as you would into the title of a piece of property, or the security back of a bond, for you want a permanent instrument.

The statements made for one Piano will be much the same as those you hear for others. But you should remember that there is as much real difference in Pianos as in any other kind of merchandise. Therefore, avoid haphazard buying. Be sure that you are getting an instrument which will fully meet your expectations.

Call at our salesrooms and let us explain why any of our Pianos is an equivalent of the price asked for it—and buy here only if your own judgment convinces you that our claims are justified by the instrument itself.

We give you a choice from various grades, each representing the best in its class, and at prices which are identical—ly the same as Pianos of the same makes and qualities would cost you if purchased at the retail departments of their makers, whether in New York, Boston or Chicago. These Pianos insure the safety of dealing with our house, while our terms are so reasonable that no inconvenience is felt in meeting payments.

Overwhelming Success Result of the Membership Campaign

WORKERS ARE OVERJOYED IN BEATING LOS ANGELES

Young Men Pass Up Bible Study and Do Serpentine to Quarters

"Red Letter Day" was a decided success, an overwhelming success, and this morning the increase in the roll of membership in the Young Men's Christian Association numbers considerably more than the 1000 mark set by the committee that had the campaign in charge.

The spirit of endeavor was noticeable all day, as the young men were vying to break the record of the Los Angeles association who had attracted a total of eight hundred new members in a similar contest.

There were numerous incidents happening throughout the day which showed to what extent enthusiasm had been kindled. Mothers thought in their young boys hoping that they could be permitted to enroll and many a sad hearted mother left when she found her boy was too young.

Others thanked. "To Mr. Edson Adams we owe much thanks for the use of the Bank building by which we were able to concentrate our efforts and reach the largest number of men."

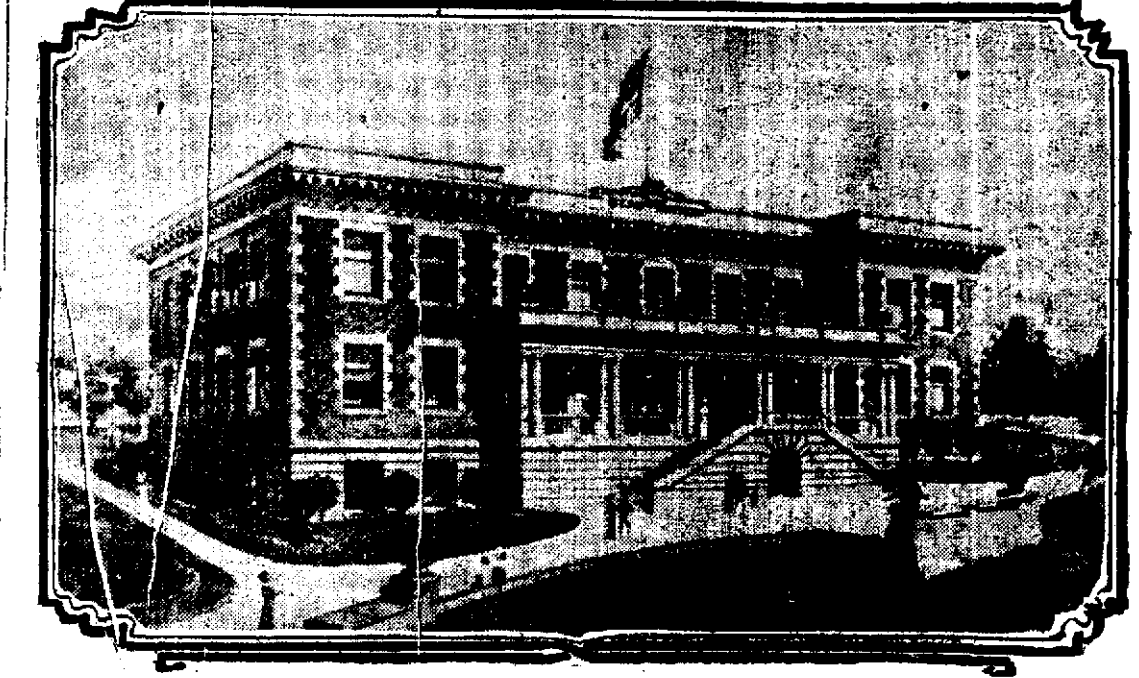

George Wade, the man accused of stealing a diamond from the shirt front of Captain W. A. Neville at the Oakland mole several days ago, was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday by Judge Smith, after Neville testified in the case.

PULLMAN BERTH RATES TO BE FOUGHT

State Railroad Commission Will Fight Recent Raise in the Courts

UPPER BEDS SHOULD BE LESS THAN LOWER

Interstate Commerce Commission Renewing the Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—For the first time in its history the State Railroad Commission is to sue the Pullman Company in an effort to have the courts cancel its recently increased rates for berths in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and San Francisco bay points and to force the corporation to make a less rate for an upper-berth than for a lower one.

At a meeting of the board yesterday, Commissioners Irwin, Loveland and Summerland, being present, a motion was adopted without dissent calling upon Attorney-General U. S. Webb to immediately bring a suit of this character.

Commissioners are to confer with the people in some of the districts affected by the corporation's tariff. Next Friday they are to hold a meeting of the board at Redding for this purpose and next week will have similar meetings at Fresno and Bakersfield.

ANOTHER DIVIDEND COMING. The Pullman Company has a capital stock of $100,000,000, and report has it that it is soon to cut another melon for its shareholders. The last one was cut about three years ago. The concern pays annual dividends in addition to heavy surplus out of which it is able from time to time to announce extra ones.

On January 24th last the Pullman Company increased many of its berth rates in various parts of the State north of Tehachapi all the way from 3 to 1.5 per cent. For instance, the new berth rate between points on the bay of San Francisco and Fresno and Hanford is $2. The old one was $1.50. The old rate to Dunsmuir from here was $1.50. The new tariff is $2. A dozen similar instances could be mentioned. Rates between intermediate points are raised in proportion to the aggregate amount of the tariff will considerably enhance the company's California revenue unless the courts intervene.

On the subject of forcing the Pullmans to make a less charge for an upper berth for a lower berth, all three commissioners were agreed that the California courts should be asked to pass upon the matter.

"I know," remarked Commissioner Loveland, "that the Interstate Commission has this subject under consideration, and that the State of Minnesota has been considering it from the standpoint of interstate travel. Let us write to those parties and get their views so as to help us in our fight."

WOULD BUILD WHARF ON TIDAL CANAL FOR CITY

ALAMEDA, Feb. 9.—That the Alameda wharf at the foot of Oak street should be enlarged and a municipal warehouse constructed at one end of it is the opinion of Councilman F. L. Krumb, City Engineer I. N. Streets, M. Frodden, who inspected the property yesterday afternoon.

When the estuary is dredged to a depth of thirty feet this wharf will become a valuable property, said City Engineer Chapman yesterday. "It will bring large revenue to the city if a warehouse is erected on one-half of it. Oakland has a good income from its city wharf and there is no reason why Alameda should not also derive some benefit from its holdings."

Both Councilman Krumb and Superintendent of Streets Frodden are in favor of the proposition and will submit the plan to the city council as soon as estimates of the cost can be drawn up.

RESOLUTIONS OF REGRET. ALAMEDA, Feb. 9.—Resolutions of regret for the death of Joseph S. Williams, trustee of the Alameda lodge of Elks, were adopted at the regular meeting of the lodge Monday night. A. C. Tove was elected to fill the vacancy left by the death of the trustee.

Our Magnificent Embroideries are the talk of the town

Unless there are radical changes in the tariff and the cotton market very soon, it will be a long time before we can again offer such values as we are showing today. The cotton in these beautiful embroideries was in the Swiss factories before the price of the raw material went to its present abnormally high figures. The finished goods were landed in New York before the new tariff bill raised the duty. So it is that this entire stock of exquisite embroideries is offered you at prices that make each piece a very special value. The variety of designs is more extensive and more exclusive than in any previous display.

After his indictment by the grand jury two years ago Cohen jumped his bail and fled from the country, going to Paris where he had been in hiding since that time. He was captured about four months ago.

"Little Giant" Prescription Cures Rheumatism and Backache in a Hurry

Doctors gave this its nick-name from its quick and powerful action upon rheumatism and backache. It is said to be a positive cure. Get one ounce of syrup or sirup compound and one ounce of tartaric compound. Then get half a glass of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients in a bottle, add a tablespoonful of this mixture before each meal, at bed time. Shake the bottle before using. The good effects are felt immediately. This has cured hundreds here. Any druggist has these ingredients on hand or will quickly get them from a wholesale house.

Halley's Comet and the Earth.

No comet of any consequence which approached the earth in the course of its transit along its orbit around the sun ever appeared in the heavens but what it gave rise to superstitious fears and alarmed the timorous. The prophets of evil who have flourished in all ages have utilized these periodic visits of comets to forecast disaster to humankind. Their sole aim has been to gain temporary notoriety. Of course, after the celestial phenomenon has passed away into the immeasurable realms of space, without anything serious happening to the earth or the course of human events, the charlatans are conveniently forgotten, if not forgiven, by those whose fears they excited, and they pass into that obscurity whence they temporarily emerged.

Any well posed individual mentally can easily account for the charlatan's forebodings of evil. But it passes all human understanding that men who are professional astronomers and chemists should predict calamity as the result of a periodical celestial phenomenon traceable to a time before the beginning of the Christian era, for the history of the rotation of Halley's comet goes as far back as that. On May 19 this vagrant of the sky will be in a position between the earth and the sun when its tail will sweep over the former and envelop its atmosphere. Camille Flammarion, the distinguished French astronomer, is reported to have predicted the direct disaster to the earth and its inhabitants as the result, ignoring the fact that the earth during the time of a generation now living, to which he belongs, has gone through the same experience without any evil effect.

The astronomers of the Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago have announced that the tail of Halley's comet shows in the spectroscopic presence of a large volume of cyanogen gas, and, on the strength of this discovery Professor Edward Booth of the chemistry department of the University of California is now credited with the sensational announcement that the mixture of the cyanogen gas of the comet's tail with the hydrogen of the earth's atmosphere will produce hydro-cyanic acid, popularly known as prussic acid, the most deadly poison known to man and immediately snuff out life of all kinds on this planet should it penetrate the earth's atmosphere.

The suggestion is sensational and to the timid will doubtless be alarming. But it is the height of folly on the part of any university professor to give currency to such a foolish theory, because he must know that there is absolutely nothing to it.

Nobody knows better than Booth does that a shower of prussic acid on the earth's surface from the passage of the earth through the tenuous tail of the Halley comet is a physical impossibility, for the earth's atmosphere is in itself a perfect shield for its own protection, as its density will be a positive preventive to the admission into it of the gaseous elements contained in the comet's tail however deadly they may be. Assuming that the earth will pass through the comet's tail, it is safe to say that no harm will happen to this terrestrial sphere or its inhabitants as the result of the experience, for both will continue to pursue the even tenor of their way through space after it is all over. If anything suffers through the contact it will be the comet's tail, which may leave some of its impalpable dust in the earth's atmosphere as the comet of 1881 did when the earth passed through its tail.

British Liberal Program.

Whether the first act of the British premier will be to introduce a resolution in the new parliament declaring that the veto power of the House of Lords should not be exercised in the case of any financial measure, or a bill remodeling the membership of the House by abolishing the hereditary right to a seat and providing for life tenure through appointment by the crown or election and placing definite restrictions on its powers, or whether the budget will be re-introduced and after passage sent up to the Lords again, is at present a matter of speculation. The London agent of the Associated Press is inclined to the belief that the reforming of the House of Lords will be the first governmental question raised, on the presumption that it will be the easiest to dispose of.

The latter is doubtful. The referendum to the electorate was invoked on the budget. The Lords refused to either approve or reject it without first getting an expression of public opinion. When the referendum was made, the real issue was the budget and the reform of the House of Lords. The Conservative-Unionists did their best during the campaign to befog the real issue by raising the question of tariff reform. If the elections had gone their way and they had been restored to power, all of the policies of the Liberal government would have been sidetracked. The revision of the income tax by an upward graduation; the taxation of the unearned increment of urban land, old age pensions, the curtailment of the powers and privileges of the peers and all other measures affecting the wealthy and untaxed landed aristocracy would have been ignored, and the burdens of those now bearing the brunt of taxation would have been increased by the imposition of taxes on imported breadstuffs and other necessities of life. The poor would have been ground finer between the upper and nether millstones and the ultra-rich and opulent landowners would have escaped contributing an equitable share toward the support of the government and the national defense.

Having, therefore, invoked the referendum on the budget, the results of the election must be accepted as an approval of it and the principles of revenue-raising which it represents. It is reasonable, therefore, to assume that the first act of the ministry will be to submit the budget as it passed the House of Commons before. If the Nationalists refrain from voting on it, as they did before, the government will have no trouble in passing it, for the united vote of the Liberals and the Laborites constitutes a good majority for the purpose. Besides, it is understood that some of the opposition members will vote for it. If an understanding has been reached between Asquith and Redmond that the Nationalists' support shall be given to it in consideration of the item on whisky being omitted in the next budget, the measure will carry by as large a majority as it did before. The Nationalists will certainly not vote with the Conservative-Unionists against it, for that party has been their open foe on every proposition affecting the welfare of Ireland, while Redmond has himself borne testimony that the Asquith-Lloyd-George government has been the most generous to Ireland in the history of Liberalism.

Thus, after the budget is disposed of the next step will be to discipline the Lords and on that point the government will have the support of Nationalists, Laborites and a large number of Conservative-Unionists who have openly expressed the necessity for reforming the Upper House.

Pleasanton is up-to-date, as is proved by the fact that it authorized yesterday by a vote of a little better than five to one, the issuance of $30,000 in bonds for the construction of a septic sewer system and another issue of $5000 for the improvement of the municipal water works.

English Laws of Inheritance.

If the inheritance laws of Great Britain qualified a natural son to inherit an entailed estate and the title accompanying it the chances are that dual families among the blue bloods would not be as numerous as they are. Moreover, these inheritance laws work a great injustice in many instances as has just been demonstrated in the contest for the title and estate of the late Lord Lionel Sackville-West, the British Ambassador at Washington, who made himself persona non grata through imprudently meddling in the national politics of the United States as the author of the so-called "Murchison" letter. During the residence of the deceased peer in Spain he raised a family of four children—a son and three daughters—the mother being a Spanish dancer. He acknowledged the paternity of the children, but denied marrying the mother, possibly to save her from the charge of bigamy, as when her relations with him began she was the wife of another from whom no evidence has ever been adduced that she was divorced. Indeed, his daughters accompanied him to Washington and during his residence there they were admitted to the inner circles of Washington society.

Under the laws of consanguinity, inheritance and entail, the title and estates passed to a nephew on the death of Lord Lionel, the illegitimacy of the son, Ernest Henry Sackville-West, shutting him out of the inheritance. The latter has twice tried to establish his right to inherit both title and estate. Under American law where the putative father had acknowledged his offspring, and leaving at the time of death no legitimate issue, the right of the offspring born out of wedlock to inherit is sustained. We have had cases of that kind adjudicated in this State. But the bar sinister in England operates the other way and the acknowledged son of Lord Lionel has for the second time had his claim thrown out of court.

The inconsistency of the British laws is manifest when it is considered that some of the oldest titled families and entailed estates in England were founded by the illegitimate offspring of Charles II by royal decree.

When Oakland harbor improvements are completed as planned by the War Department the municipal government and private corporations it will be one of the securest harbors for shipping of all sizes in the world, being completely land-locked, and so perfectly protected is it from the wind that its waters are as unruffled as a mill pond from whatever quarter the gale may blow. No vessel moored to a wharf in Oakland harbor was ever chafed in the slightest degree in the severest gales sweeping over San Francisco bay. Moreover, Oakland harbor when completed will be large enough to accommodate the entire merchant fleet engaged in the commerce of the Pacific. These are facts worth treasuring.

CHURCH'S SUCCESS DEPENDS
ON HANDLING OF CHILDRENBishop Edwin Hughes Speaks to Members of Methodist-Episcopal Board of Sunday Schools

The three days' Sunday school convention, which has been held under the auspices of the board of Sunday schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the First M. E. Church, Fourteenth and Clay streets, closed last evening with a farewell address delivered by the Rev. Dr. George W. White, pastor of the church, which has been the scene of the convention since last Sunday evening. The closing session was presided over by Harry Morton, superintendent of the First Methodist Episcopal Church and California representative of the board of Sunday schools.

CHILDREN THE KEY.
Rev. Dr. W. W. Guth, president of the University of the Pacific, led the devotional services, which were followed by an address given by Bishop Edwin Hughes, who spoke upon "Holding Our Own." He maintained in the course of his lecture that the secret of the success of the Roman Catholic Church was the success which they had in dealing with their children, and the amazing cohesiveness of the Hebrew race, which has preserved its integrity through the vicissitudes of the centuries he said is to be found in the same fact. Bishop Hughes contended that if the Roman Catholics and the Hebrew race with an imperfect system could do so much for their children, why couldn't the Protestant churches do as much with a perfect system.

In behalf of the visitors Rev. Dr. David Downey, corresponding secretary of the board of Sunday schools, made a few remarks in which he thanked the parishioners and the delegates for the attention and interest displayed in the convention.

MEET ACROSS BAY.
A three-days' Sunday school convention opened this morning in the Wesleyan Methodist Episcopal Church of San Francisco.

That convention will be followed by a three-days' session in Fresno and Downey, Rev. Dr. Edgar Blake and Mrs. M. S. Lamoreaux will travel to Chicago, headquarters of the Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The board of Sunday schools was created by the action of the last central conference in May, 1908, and is organized July 29, 1909.

It has created a department of the Sunday school extension and has placed twenty-two Sunday school missionaries in the field in the following countries: Arkansas, Colorado, Dakota, Delaware, East Maine, Idaho, Northern Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, Michigan, North Dakota, Northwest Kansas, West Wisconsin, Wyoming, Mission, South Carolina, Central Alabama, Norwegian and Danish and Columbia River.

WORK OF MISSIONARIES.
The missionaries devote their time to the organization of new schools and to the development of the Sunday school interests of their respective conferences. The average length of service of the missionaries is less than six months; they have organized during that time more than 300 new Sunday schools with a membership of over 12,000.

The Sunday school board has given $15,000 to Sunday school work in foreign fields and has had urgent appeals for Sunday school missionaries in Korea, Porto Rico and the Philippines.

Among the other notable achievements of the Sunday school board is the establishment of a correspondence course for the training of Sunday school workers. It is introducing new and improved methods of work and higher ideals and standards of efficiency into the Sunday schools.

The board needs $150,000 a year for its missionary and educational work.

War Troubles Of the Army
And Navy
In the
Piping Times of Peace

The present trial over an incident at a navy ball illustrates the peculiar and to a certain extent thoroughly unwholesome position occupied by the army and navy in every country. A similar affair among civilians would be considered a trifle and the public would take no interest in it. But in this case one of the great departments of the United States government is trying to decide the merits or demerits of a petty social squabble concerning three or four young people, and the whole country is listening.

It is the trouble with army and navy people everywhere that in the great modern world, with its vast industrial, intellectual and moral problems, they have too little to do. They are thrown up on the beach and the big tide of human affairs passes on. Then they construct a little world of their own in which the details of every member of it become of consuming importance. They lose the sense of proportion, and as their lives become narrowed through isolation they are in a sense children outside of their chosen work, a result for which they are not to be blamed individually.

One of the most difficult questions in every civilized land is the question of army and navy people in time of peace. What work and interests can a government give them for the sake of their own health and content?—New York World.

Lenten Season Ushered in With Services in Many Churches

EVERY DAY IS FAST
DAY FOR PENITENTS

All Abstain from Meat Except
Workingmen in Catholic Religion

Today, Ash Wednesday, commences the Lenten season observed by the Catholic and Protestant churches as a season of fasting and of prayer, of self-denial and spiritual uplifting. From today until Easter there are forty days, not including Sundays, which are fast days. In all the season is forty-six days.

In all the churches preparations have been made for extra services and sermons. During this period society functions will cease and the spirit of pleasure's followers will be turned into other channels, and the ever-open doors of the church will welcome the multitudes to more frequent prayer and communion. The church at this holy season preaches the means of grace and the opportunities of service.

ABSTAIN FROM MEAT.

Members of the Episcopal churches will make resolutions of prayer, of fasting and of alms giving and will abstain from flesh meat on Wednesday and Fridays. In the Roman Catholic churches, by virtue of an ancient grant by Pope Sixtus IV. in 1585, workingmen and their families are allowed the use of flesh meat once a day on all the fast and abstinence days throughout the year. The exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week, and the Vigil of Christmas. Those who are exempt from the obligation of fasting are permitted to use meat more than once a day on all days except those before mentioned, namely: Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week, and the Vigil of Christmas. Those who avail themselves of this indulgence are not permitted to use flesh meat and fish at the same meal, and are earnestly exhorted to perform some other act of mortification, such as abstinence from intoxicating liquors.

The fast time extends from the first Sunday in Lent until Trinity Sunday, inclusive, during which time all Catholics who have attained the proper age are bound to receive Holy Communion worthily.

TIME FOR PRAYER.

The faithful are reminded that besides the obligations of fasting imposed by the church, the season of Lent should be in a very special manner a time for earnest prayer, of sorrow for sin, of abstinence from amusements, which, not sinful in themselves, are permitted during other portions of the year, and of generous almsgiving to the poor.

At St. Mary's Catholic Church, Eighth and Jefferson streets, there will be devotions, sermons and benediction on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

At St. Patrick's Catholic Church, there will be three masses every morning and devotions on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. On Wednesdays and Sundays Jesuit Fathers from Santa Clara will conduct services. At St. Anthony's at Fifteenth street and Sixteenth avenue, masses will be held at 7 and 9 o'clock in the morning and this evening at 7:30 o'clock will be the distribution of the ashes.

AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

At St. John's Episcopal Church, 1015 Commercial street, there will be 10 o'clock this morning, evening at 4:30, and the stations of the Cross and meditation will be at 7:45 this evening. Following are the weekday holy communions: Monday, Tuesday, 7:45 a. m.; Wednesday and Friday, 7 a. m.; matins and litany, Wednesday and Friday, 9:30 a. m.; evensong, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, 4:30 p. m.; Friday, 4:15 p. m.; 7:45 p. m.; stations of the Cross with meditation, Wednesday, 7:45 p. m.; children's service with instruction, Saturday, 4 p. m.; St. Matthias day—celebration of holy communion, 7 a. m.; morning prayer and second celebration, 9:30 o'clock a. m.

SERVICES AT TRINITY.

Trinity Church, at Twenty-ninth street and Telegraph avenue, held services at 7:30 and 10 o'clock this morning, with a sermon by Rev. Mr. Macon. At 7:30 this evening Rev. Compton S. Smith will preach. There will be special prayers for all of the six Wednesday evening services. March 2 the Rev. John W. Nichols of Shanghai, China, will occupy the pulpit.

Rev. James Hulme held services at Holy Innocent's Chapel, on Shattuck avenue, at 10 o'clock.

During Lent Sundays are not included; they are feast days, the weekly commemoration of the Lord's resurrection, even as Easter is the yearly commemoration.

Straws Which the Political Wind
Blows Toward Mayor Mott

Journalistic high priests of the anti-organization wing of California Republicans will probably agree that THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE is the most "machine" paper in the State.

Also, Mayor Mott of Oakland was one of the original organizers of the Lincoln-Roosevelt protest against the organization.

Yet in THE TRIBUNE, an organization paper, appears the following about Mr. Mott:

Now that Governor Gillett has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election, the admirable record made by Frank K. Mott during his three terms as Mayor of Oakland naturally draws to him favorable attention from all sections of the State. What his intentions are THE TRIBUNE cannot say, for the Mayor has thus far declined to declare them, but he is so conspicuous an exponent of upright, progressive and energetic administration free from objectionable influences, that his fitness for the Governorship is obvious, and hence he is in the limelight as a prospective candidate.

The feature of Mr. Mott's possible candidacy that is weakest is his lack of acquaintance through the State. That is no offense—it is not even an indication of weakness in him. It only suggests that he has not been in those activities which brought him to the attention of the general public. But the qualities that have made him "so conspicuous an exponent of upright, progressive and energetic administration free from objectionable influences" in Oakland would entitle the voters of the State to expect the same qualities at Sacramento.

If Mayor Mott is the sort of a man that organization and anti-organization people who know him can agree upon as being a man of such character and ability, those of us who do not know him personally or intimately can take heart of hope that here is a possible candidate worthy of the best the people of the State can bestow upon him.—San Bernardino Sun.

A Philosophy of Chin Whiskers

Without making a very thorough analysis of its feelings, the public will feel gratified with the reflection that Senator Knute Nelson is to have the chief hand in the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry. And this, for the vague reason that the Senator wears chin whiskers.

If one may rely upon the most familiar portrait of Mr. Nelson, he keeps his face clean-shaven, all out his chin, and when his likeness is presented, along with those of other public men, one is arrested by his stern but kindly visage, this being the effect of those chin whiskers.

Such a mode of tonsorial ornamentation, however, almost contrary to a conception of another day. Mark Twain's illustrators drew such faces for one of his volumes depicting life in Utah, but the Mormons were only imitating the ways of less scandalous persons when they shaved their lips and withheld the razor from their chins.

A man with individuality and strength of purpose enough so to turn himself today into a kind of a martyr and a degree of confidence which we are rapidly losing. We all concede, when we go to our histories, that public honesty was at a much higher ebb several decades ago than it is today, and when a man with chin whiskers is called into a case we feel that we are to have justice of an old brand.

We cannot be quite sure that Senator Nelson will let the light into the Ballinger-Pinchot affair just where it belongs, but we are persuaded in his favor from the first—not alone because of his reputation for integrity but because of the equitable suggestion of chin whiskers.

About the London Traffic

The report of the Board of Trade on London traffic brings out two facts especially, the first is that traveling is increasing much more rapidly than the population, and the second that once again the facilities for traveling are coming to a standstill. The fact that traveling is increasing in a higher ratio than the population is accounted for by the outward movement of the population. The facilities which have been afforded in the last five or six years have encouraged people to live further afield, and consequently to rely to a much greater extent on trains, trams and omnibuses. Few people now live within a walk of their business, and if they do, they seldom walk. This is a point which might have been mentioned in the report. Ten years ago people used to walk if they had only a short distance to go, but now they either take a taxicab or a motor bus and excuse themselves by the saving of time thus effected. The outward movement of the population, and the habit of riding for the shortest distances have, between them, caught up the increased facilities provided by the motor buses, the taxicabs and the electric tubes, and the provision of facilities has now ceased to increase at anything like the rate of the last six years. Railway enterprise is almost at a standstill, and this is not surprising considering the heavy rates and the unfair competition introduced by municipal trams. But that tramway extension is also falling off is more surprising. The widening of the streets will probably be the next direction in which relief will be sought.—London Globe.

Mrs. Mills then introduced Dr. Carson, upon whose shoulders the mantle of the presidency has descended.

Dr. Carson paid tribute to the work of Mrs. Mills and congratulated the members of the Twentieth Century Club upon the work the club is doing and upon the hospitality which she stated, was a notable feature of California club life.

Her address was upon "The Higher Education for Women."

Firstly she dealt with the subject from the viewpoint of co-education, then from the standpoint of segregation of the sexes and in her apothegm prophesied the ideal system of education for women with some classes taught by women and others by men with men as classmates.

Miss Howe of the Mills faculty gave two humorous readings and Mrs. Orin Kip McMurray, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, sang, in her beautiful voice, a cycle of Indian songs.

Love Letters: What They Mean

Princess George of Greece, the most beautiful princess in Europe, who it is said greatly resembles the central figure in the magnificent painting by Gervais, which ornaments the wall facing the entrance to the sumptuous new hotel in Paris at Monte Carlo.

The statement is daring, because the central figure is undraped and surrounded by many other such figures more or less known on the Riviera, but the resemblance to the princess doubtless is imaginary or a coincidence. Those who know of her early life and piety she became Princess George of Greece she was Princess Marie Bonaparte. Her mother, before she was married, was the daughter of M. Blanc, who made a tremendous fortune on the gambling tables here. Prince George of Greece was an intimate friend of the Czar of Russia before the latter reached the throne. Czar and Japanese prince, George knocked the assassin down before he accomplished his purpose.

At Eureka, California, with which institution she has been connected for the past three years, to take a similar position with the Acropolis Sanitarium in this city.

Winding Up His Wife a New Form of Ring-Around-a-Rosy

NEW YORK.—The day of the button-up-the-back gown is over. The princess dress, with its hundred hooks and eyes, loops, snappers, fasteners and buttons, has passed away, and the newest style frock has only one rivet to hold it together, says the New York World.

Yet without your spoiling, ye members of the Subjugated Order of Hookers Up, for there is a fly in the ointment, a rift within the lute, a canker at the rose's heart.

The cocoon dress—such being its quaint name, for within it a woman appears to be in a cocoon or a mummy's swathing bands—has just a pair of sleeves and a sash. The sash is forty yards long. Sounds as if an ambulance from the psychopathic ward might call for any one who labored of such a dress. Probably it will call, but after the dress is donned, and not for the wearer, but for the one who helped her to put it on.

After the sleeves have been arranged the assistant takes hold of the sash and wraps it tightly about the wearer, around and around and around and around, each fold lapping the other, until the feet are reached. There the end of the sash is clinched.

It is impossible for a woman to walk in this costume, but it will be very stylish. It is feared the mortality from its introduction will be great.

Each One Is and Cannot Help Being a Revelation of the Soul

For some weeks Paris has thrilled with excitement because a poet's love letters after thirty years have been brought from their secret drawer.

A love letter is a revelation of the soul.

It is a confession it is filled with thoughts delicate like gossamer, with words like glowing jewels, with sighs like the perfume of the flowers but their exquisite beauty, their tender and passionate messages, were intended only for eyes dimmed with love.

But in spite of this in spite of their intimate nature, the discovery of all ages has been enriched by the publication of the love letters of those whom the world has loved. Sometimes it is the letters, sometimes the love, that enchants us.

Put your own love letters—how tenderly you guard them! If you take them out from their secret drawer it is when none but yourself may see them.

The first love letter is often contains no word of love. With what emotion was it received, this missive addressed by a hand whose writing, then perhaps seen for the first time, was already beloved.

Though it may have been no more than a formal note it was a message of love, so that every word had an inordinate value and those white spaces between the lines revealed all that the writer longed to say and dared not or would not for worlds have said.

Not readily was such a letter answered, nor without careful thought, so that, the simplest phrases requiring to be arranged and rearranged, having so much behind them, many sheets of paper were destroyed. Easy neither to begin nor to end, this first letter to one who is loved.

To some the writing of love letters is never easy. But the stumbling and halting phrases, the thoughts so badly expressed, have in their rough way fine eloquence. They are fault and that coldness. Yet to most people it comes easily enough to express their innermost thoughts, their longing and ardor. They write of love with a skill that is now far from common in ordinary correspondence, with simplicity and sometimes with expressions that have poetic beauty.

There is something touching in the natural striving after poetic expression; it is an attempt to put down in black and white all that the heart feels, to find beautiful words in which to express emotions that seem word-defiant.

If, as sometimes happens, the letters of simple lovers are made public, they seem ludicrous enough. And when a suitor writes to one who does not return his affection his rhapsodies awaken no more than a smile of contempt. But, in fact, because of the honest endeavor to express overmastering feeling, they seem to plead for respect.

It is well enough for poets to sing their loves in chosen phrases, that even, after thirty years, may still have the power to enchant the ear of a curious public. But the ordinary person writes from the heart, seeking this one time at least to be eloquent without the art of the practiced writer, and it may be, writes what no other comes to.

Heaven only knows whence comes the inspiration by which the unready pen does, indeed, accomplish so much. The letters from one who is loved are read again and again; they become treasures. Nor could they come too often.

At the sight of the postman the heart stands still. If he brings no message, dreadful thoughts fill the mind; joyous expectation gives place to gloom.

But when love is fickle or unending, these letters written and read with so much meaning, how shall they appear then? Alas, that they should, being measured, to often outlive the love they record, and sometimes coldly returned to the writer. Otherwise they may still be some solace, some link with the past, some certain evidence of the love that is now no more.

Poor little letters with their vows of eternal love! but at least when they were written the love was strong enough to seem to belong to eternity.

I have said that the first love letter sometimes contains no word of love and there are lovers who in their correspondence never go beyond the formal matters that form their excuses for writing. But for all their prinners, they have caused hearts to beat and fingers to tremble, for all of its emotions, contains few more tender than those which the correspondence of lovers arouses. And when the days of courtship are over and love letters no longer arrive an exquisite pleasure is lost.

It is perhaps for this reason that love letters are cherished, even done up in neat little packets, tied with a ribbon, fastened with a lover's knot.

Former Suitor of Girl Complains to Comstock

Miss Almira Ogilthorpe of No. 65 Hasbrouck street, Newburg N. Y., accused by Anthony Comstock of having on January 2 mailed a post card containing matter of an objectionable character to Frederick Dailey & Co., New York, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Shies.

In the course of the examination it appeared that Mr. Dailey had brought suit against Miss Ogilthorpe for breach of promise of marriage and asked $500 damages, and for the recovery of a gold watch and chain which he claimed to have loaned to her during their courtship. His suit failed.

Mr. Dailey then brought to Mr. Comstock a postcard which he said had been written by Miss Ogilthorpe. Between blushes and frowns looks at her former sweetheart the young woman denied that she had written the postcard and alleged that the charge was brought through spite. Several witnesses were called.

They met in the street. There you saw reserved.

STONE SAYS TARIFF IS CAUSE OF PRICES

Democratic War Horse from Missouri Talks of High
Prices

EVERYTHING TO BLAME
BECAUSE OF TARIFF

First Broadside Launched in Political Fight to Come on Elkins Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(Apropos of the consideration of the composite Elkins-Lodge-McCumber road prices investigation resolutions reported to the Senate by the committee on finance and containing a provision for the repeal of the Missouri tariff act, Senator Stone of Missouri today addressed the Senate on the general question of food prices. He undertook to show that the Payne-Adams tariff bill is largely responsible for the enhanced price of many necessities of life.

Contrasting the delay on reporting the Elkins resolutions with the dispatch in bringing in the Lodge measure, Stone declared that there had been a vast amount of "monkey business" in connection with the consideration of the subject.

Saying he had been greatly puzzled to know the meaning of the method of proceeding, he declared it had the complexion of a "purpose to conceal rather than to discover."

WHY? ASKS STONE.

"If not," he asked, "why did Republican members of the finance committee rush into this business and exhibit an overwhelming anxiety to take charge of the proposed inquiry? If the remarkable things done here have given to the business the sinister aspect of a scheme on the part of certain senators to organize a committee that would start in primly to hold the Payne-Adams law blameless for the evils the country complains of, then the senator from Massachusetts and his Republican associates on the finance committee have been shamelessly playing it from all responsibility for the higher prices that have followed its enactment. A deep-laid apprehension to that effect has been expressed by many newspapers and by many people in different parts of the country."

IN NEED OF WHITEWASH.

He said he knew of nothing which could be said in great need of a coating of whitewash as the present tariff laws. Ascertaining that there had been a rapid enhancement of prices since the passage of the law, he declared that neither an increase in the demand for food nor an increase in the gold supply could explain these advances in so short a time.

In all probability, Stone continued, Lodge would head the committee investigation, and Stone expressed apprehension that the Senator would hesitate to follow out any line of inquiry which might substantiate Secretary Wilson's contention that American food products are sold more cheaply abroad than in the United States.

Stones quoted from letters and newspapers to show that the increase in the necessities of life since the enactment of the Payne-Adams bill. Among the letters was one from a St. Louis merchant saying that cotton goods had increased in price from 12 1/2 to 33 percent; linens, 7 1/2 to 10 percent and hosiery 10 percent.

Every man of common sense, he said, ought to know that the enormous profits accruing to monopolists in these industries are the result of artificial conditions created by law.

"I don't see how it can be contended," he continued, "that these artificial conditions are the result of consumers of the country, thank Heaven, beginning to become the impatient sufferers, are chiefly for the benefit of the American wage earners employed in these industries."

Stones said that the tariff act is a matter of the greatest importance, and that the tariff rates, as a rule, are far in excess of any difference in the labor value in America and the chief competing countries, and that the chief beneficiaries of this system are the men who employ this labor, as the chief sufferers are the consumers who are the victims of their monopolies."

STOPS PAYMENT OF CHECK
IS HALED INTO COURT

Because he stopped payment on a check given in settlement of a judgment allowed by Justice of the Peace Quinn, J. S. Hinch, a local realty dealer, was haled into court yesterday to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt of court.

Hinch was ordered to pay a plaintiff by Judge Quinn Tuesday morning and immediately after the decision was rendered he made out a check for the amount. When his creditor presented the check at the bank, however, he was told that payment had been stopped.

Yesterday explained that he had stopped payment of the paper on the advice of his attorney, but that he would straighten the matter out at once. He was allowed to go on this explanation.

FALLS INTO ELEVATOR
AND ALMOST DROWNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—While walking along the Battery street car Broadway, at 3 o'clock this morning, Charles Warren, who resides at the Milton House, Third and Mission streets, fell into an open elevator and was plunged into a mass of water.

Stunned by his fall, Warren narrowly escaped drowning in the shallow pool, but finally managed to drag himself to the street again, where he was found by a patrolman and sent to the Harbor Emergency Hospital. Dr. Tillman treated him for submersion.

BIG CRUISER FLEET PLOWING ITS WAY TO SAN FRANCISCO

HONOLULU, Feb. 9.—With the pennant of Rear-Admiral Giles B. Harber flying from the masthead of the flagship California, the eight cruisers comprising the Pacific fleet sailed from here today for the Pacific coast.

Rear-Admiral Giles B. Harber succeeded Rear-Admiral Uriel S. Beebe as commander of the fleet several days ago in Honolulu harbor, and for the first time the California became the flagship. The Tennessee, formerly the flagship, will go direct to Bremerton navy yard to be overhauled. The other six cruisers, the California, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Colorado and Maryland will go direct to San Francisco, being scheduled to arrive there next Tuesday. The crews will be given shore liberty for a few days before the fleet goes to Magdalena for target practice.

MERCHANTS ARE TO FIGHT FEDERAL TAX

H. C. Capwell Complains That
New Law Works an Injustice

Asserting that the federal corporation tax is an unjust one on any but interstate concerns, merchants of this city, under the leadership of H. C. Capwell, are preparing to offer a spirited resistance to the new measure, and, according to their claims, this resistance is seconded by the banks and merchants in other cities.

HARDSHIP ON MERCHANTS.

"The tax not only works a hardship on the merchants," said Capwell, this morning, "but is unfair in that it only affects incorporated concerns, thus giving about one-half of the merchants in this city an advantage over the others."

"Besides this advantage financially, it affords the merchants means of knowing the amount of business done by their competitors, and thus price into the private affairs of merchants and concerns who have already paid the state a license to carry on their business without interference."

VIOLATES STATES RIGHTS.

"In this connection I may say that the law violates States rights, as the corporations taxed by the new measure are those who have paid the regular incorporation tax to the State, and are paying the license."

"The payment of this license is supposed to render a concern immune from interference, but under the new law it only makes it possible for the Federal tax to be imposed. It simply means that if the payment of the tax is insisted on that there will be a large number of disincorporations next year."

"The new tax does not affect co-partnerships, but only concerns incorporated under a State law. About one-half of the Oakland stores are not operated by incorporated companies, and these will not be taxed, leaving the burden on the others. The law, in our opinion, is foolish and unjust, although designed with the right idea."

TO REACH TRUSTS.

"The tax was designed to reach the big interstate trust companies, and in this connection the tax is a good one. But when it attacks every little company that is incorporated, it is time to call a halt."

"We are not trying to dodge taxes, and personally I am in favor of an income tax, but I protest, as does every merchant in the city, against paying this tax which is a burden on the small business."

The matter was taken up yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Dr. George C. Pardee also spoke on the subject, after which the matter was referred to the Chamber's legislation committee.

BOYS SHOULD FIGHT;
THEY ARE NATURAL
BRUTES, SAYS O'SHEA

MADISON, Wis., Feb. 9.—"To teach a 10-year-old boy to fight is sometimes the best solution of certain problems in connection with his education," said Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin in a lecture on "Child Psychology" yesterday.

"The kitten plays only because its ancestors hunted for a living," continued the professor. "It goes through all the motions of stalking and catching an object, though the modern domestic cat does not need to hunt for its food."

"So it is with the child. He loves dirt and fighting. He is a brute as far as his instincts go, and unless he is allowed to develop his savage instincts at an early age, the finer instincts, which do not come till later, will not develop to their best advantage."

"The most esthetic and intellectual persons are those who in early life were the wildest children. Statistics prove it. Every home should provide for savage as well as civilized life."

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith Entertain Elite at an Elaborate Reception

MR. AND MRS. F. M. SMITH, who entertained last evening at their beautiful home, "Arbor Villa," at one of the largest affairs of the season.

Arbor Villa, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Smith, was the scene last evening of the most elaborate reception of the season, almost two hundred and fifty guests assembling at the invitation of the host and hostess to enjoy the brilliant event which was planned as the culmination of social achievement for the season of 1909-1910.

A program of music, contributed by McKenzie Gordon, vocalist, and Miss Bardu, an Eastern harpist of wide fame, was interspersed throughout the evening and dancing in the handsome ballroom was enjoyed between the numbers.

The beauty of the reception rooms of the great mansion was enhanced by decorations of ferns, Oregon grape, acacia and the tall, graceful fronds of the pussy willow. Violets and jonquils were used in the spacious lower hall, where the guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Smith, and enchantment and merriment were combined in the ballroom.

Mrs. Smith was gowned in an imported creation of point lace and chiffon over a pink satin and wore a diamond necklace and tiara, the beautiful costume accentuating the girlish grace of her figure.

The gowns and jewels of the guests were especially notable, society taking advantage of the last opportunity to appear in its handsomest effects before donning the sackcloth of Lent.

Stop Women And Consider

This Fact—that in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers twenty-five years.

The present Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, was for years under her direction, and has ever since her decease continued to advise women.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty causes them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probable examinations of even their family physician. Such questioning and examination is unnecessary. Without cost you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

MRS. PINKHAM'S STANDING INVITATION:

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established this confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Never has she published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which Mrs. Pinkham has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge needed in your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

CLUBMAN ELOPES WITH FAIR CO-ED

Milton Moraghan and Ethel Thorndyke of Stanford Flee Her Guardians

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—An elopement marked the happy culmination of a three years' courtship yesterday when Miss Ethel Thorndyke of Chicago and a student at Stanford University fled to this city from Palo Alto and was married to Milton Moraghan, well known in Olympic Club circles.

The wedding was a secret affair, no one knowing the intentions of the couple but Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Havens of 2831 Howard street who engineered the affair, and Charles Moraghan, a brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Thorndyke had been living with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Bond in this city and was sent to Stanford by the couple who objected to the attentions of Moraghan.

The distance between Palo Alto and San Francisco was not enough, however, and letters planning for the elopement flew back and forth.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Havens and the Rev. Father Fleming officiated. The couple went to Byron Springs for the honeymoon trip.

Archbishop Ireland Discusses Failure of C. W. Fairbanks to See Pontiff

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—A statement was given to the Associated Press by Archbishop Ireland today, in which the Archbishop says:

People in America may easily misapprehend the circumstances which led the Vatican to refuse an audience with the Holy Father to Mr. Charles W. Fairbanks after he, a former Vice-President of the United States, would have made a public address before the Methodist Association of that city. Most likely Mr. Fairbanks himself did not fully realize the meaning which Romans would attribute to his address.

It was not a question of Mr. Fairbanks being a Methodist or going to a Methodist church in Rome for Sunday devotions. It was a question of appearing to give the fullest approval to the work of the Methodist Association in Rome.

ORGANIZED TO FIGHT.

I was in Rome last winter and made a very particular study of this Methodist propaganda. It has gone so far that Catholics have organized the Society for the Preservation of the Faith to fight against it.

The purpose of the work of the Methodist Association in Rome is confessed openly. The means employed are by no means honorable. They take every advantage of the poverty of the poor of Rome. Books circulated and displayed in the windows of their book stores are slanders against the Catholic faith, the Holy Pontiff at Rome and a misrepresentation of the whole Catholic system.

MEANING OF ADDRESS.

Now a public address by a former Vice-President of the United States before the Methodist Association can have no other meaning in the eyes of the Roman public than approval of the propaganda of the Methodist Association. Had the Holy Father guardian of the spiritual interests of the Catholic church of the world smilingly welcomed Mr. Fairbanks to an audience on the following day in what other position would he appear to be than giving his approval to the propaganda of the Methodist Association before which the address had been given?

It was simply impossible for the Holy Father in his official position as sovereign Pontiff of the Catholic church to do anything but to say politely to Mr. Fairbanks: "I cannot receive you and accord you the honors due you in all other circumstances as an American and as a distinguished representative of a Republic."

ONE MILLION FOR YOSEMITE ROADS

Congress to Be Asked to Improve Highways in the Park

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Secretary Ballinger and Congressman Needham are agreed on a plan to improve the Yosemite National Park in the way of roads, trails and accommodations making it equal in advantages to Yellowstone Park. The proposal that may be laid before Congress is the expenditure of $1,000,000 in five annual installments.

As to the valley, Needham does not share the Secretary's fears of an epidemic among the tourists, on the ground that the pure water supply system the cost of which is estimated at $120,000. The plan is to pipe the water from the heights above the falls down to the hotel and camps. Ballinger sees grave danger in the use of water from the Merced river which which at the same time, serves as a drain for the valley.

Needham has not succeeded in convincing the Secretary of the urgency of improving the road from El Portal to the Sentinel Hotel and it now early will go to the President to get the assistance of his persuasive powers. CREDITORS SEIZE BRAGANZA'S GOODS

Invade Princely Quarters and Bear Off His Art Treasures

VIENNA, Feb. 9.—Agents of creditors of Prince Miguel of Braganza, bearing court order smashed their way into the nobleman's quarters in the Brahmapatra and bore off all the luxurious furniture.

A squad of porters carried off the furniture and objects of art, while the prince dispersed a jeering mob. Prince Miguel whose father is a pretender to the throne of Portugal, married Miss Anita Stewart last year. Her mother, who was Miss Armstrong of Baltimore, is the widow of James Henry (Silent) Smith of New York.

Prince Miguel and his wife are in Paris. Creditors whose claims amount to about $50,000 got together recently and took the necessary steps to seize the prince's furniture. The ink on the prince's marriage record was hardly dry when the wife of a Vienna money lender named Spiel brought suit on a note for $20,000. The prince denied the debt and the case is still in the courts. Then came the startling declaration that a syndicate of his creditors were suing him for $1,000,000 on an agreement reached before his marriage, when a large sum was advanced him for matrimonial negotiation purposes. The creditors say they were entitled to one-fifth of the fortune brought to the prince by his wife, no matter whom he married. They figured that the Stewart "dot" was $5,000,000, consequently the million dollar suit. The prince's wife was willed only $500,000 and her mother got only $2,000,000.

PLAN GREAT RECEPTION TO ROOSEVELT ON RETURN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—John A. Stewart, president of the New York League of Republican Clubs, arrived here yesterday and will confer with President Taft today regarding the home coming celebration in honor of former President Roosevelt.

A cablegram was received in New York yesterday from Roosevelt accepting the Republican Club's proposition to form a reception committee with representatives from all over the country to meet him on his arrival in New York harbor some time between June 15th and 21st next.

President Taft is giving his hearty support to the plan for a nation-wide reception, but it is doubtful whether he can personally participate therein, as he is likely to be in Alaska when the ex-President returns home.

Who's hiding behind that label?

Since 1875 we have been making "Ground Chocolate" and making it so good that it is today the most popular table beverage on the Pacific Coast, exceeding all similar preparations combined in total of sales.

Attracted by this popularity some manufacturers are putting out imitation brands under the name "Ground Chocolate" expecting to sell some goods on the reputation we have established.

Some such imitations are on the market in this city, but the names on the labels are not the names of men who have a chocolate factory or are engaged in the manufacture of this line of goods.

As pure food is a serious matter of health for you and for your family, you have a right to know and should inquire who is hiding behind those labels? And why are they hiding?

Avoid questions and doubts by always insisting upon "GHIRARDELLI'S THE ORIGINAL, the genuine, the pure and delicious Ground Chocolate."

The Best from a Million Bushels —Del Monte Tomatoes

A Tomato, you know, is nearly all water.

If you take off the skin, there is not enough fibre left to hold it together, so that in stewing Tomatoes, you never add water—there is enough without it.

Some canned Tomatoes, most brands, in fact, are watery and mushy, so that when you buy a can you buy more water than real Tomatoes.

Water, at the price of Tomatoes, is expensive. In the Del Monte brand we take out most of the water. We pack over a million bushels of Tomatoes a year, under 400 different labels. Some sell as low as four or five cents for 25c, but Del Monte retails at 12½¢ per can. But if you will weigh the actual Tomato meat of the cheaper can, after draining off all the water or juice, and then do the same with Del Monte, you will find that Del Monte contains two or three times as much actual Tomato meat as other brands.

Del Monte is the choice pack of the world's largest canners. We pack all grades of Tomatoes. All are wholesome. All are packed under the most sanitary conditions.

But, they vary in the quantity of Tomato meat contained, as compared to the water or juice. A can of Del Monte brand is nearly all Tomato.

Del Monte Tomatoes are vine-ripened, carefully washed, peeled and cored. It is impossible to have all Tomatoes on even one vine alike. For the Del Monte brand we choose the best. Greater care is used in the handling. A large percentage of the water is taken out. You get the best we know how to make. You are always sure if you get Del Monte.

We Pack Other Brands as Good as Del Monte

But you have no way of knowing them. We put up over four hundred different brands of canned and dried fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies, preserves, catsups, honey and condiments. Most of the brands are for dealers who own their own labels. Quality does not affect the wholesomeness of the goods. All packers, we believe, put up only wholesome goods. Quality refers to flavor and the quantity of solid vegetable or fruit meat as compared to the water or juice. If you were able to select all other brands from those of cheaper quality, you would get exactly the same quality as you obtain in Del Monte, but there is no way in which you can tell which are safe, except by specifying Del Monte.

COFFROTH WINS $1000 BET IN RACE ACROSS WORLD

'SUNSHINE JIM' A MAN OF TALENT AND VIRTUE

Writer Pays High Tribute to Character of Sportsman Who Dominates California Pugilism

By EDDIE SMITH.

With two hours and forty-five minutes of spare, James W. Coffroth, premier fight promoter, critic and globe trotter, land in San Francisco, a winner of the $1000 bet he made with Eugene Corri, and in a short time was thoroughly overhauled by the reception committee of his many friends. The friends of Coffroth turned out in great numbers to greet him and I dare say the promoter never said "hello" as many times at one time in his life as he did last night. One of the first things Coffroth said after landing at the ferry building was typical of the Californian who has been away from home as long as he has.

"The farther one gets away from dear old Frisco the smaller the place seems," he said, "but it's great to be back, and the first whiff of the old Frisco breeze is like a drink of old wine to the connoisseur. The feeling of good fellowship that exists here is the most fascinating thing in the world, and you can bet that I am more than glad to be back."

It was the writer's very pleasant duty to then guide Coffroth to Corri at London that he had lost the bet, and today the money will be forwarded to Coffroth by the stakeholder decided upon when the wager was made. Coffroth not only wins the bet but he establishes a new record for the trip, making the distance in nine days, six hours and fifty-five minutes.

HOST OF FRIENDS.

If there had been any idea that Coffroth was lacking in the matter of friends that idea must from now on be banished, for the home-coming of the state young promoter brought out people of all walks of life by the hundreds and last evening at the St. Francis Hotel he was wined and dined by a number of friends among whom were some of the representative people of San Francisco. In a way the home-coming of the promoter reminded one of the reception a conquering hero might receive, and the beauty of the thing was that the friends who gathered to greet him did so with a kindly feeling and not one of curiosity or desire for information on the boxing game. Once the newspaper men had had their little say boxing was hardly mentioned. Coffroth came home prepared to enter upon the duties of promoting boxing contests with renewed zeal, however, there can be no doubt, for he has come home with a string of contests that will keep him in pugilistic engagements for the entire year. Coffroth has been called the premier promoter for the past many years and in this the fans have made no mistake, for he stands as far above the other promoters as Jim Jeffries did above the fighters of the land when he was in his prime.

FATHER BRILLIANT LAWYER.

James W. Coffroth, father of the promoter, was in the early days of this State one of the most brilliant attorneys and best liked men in the California legislature, of which he was a member for many years. He died during the promoter's early life, however, and owing to this fact the young man had to shift for himself. He has shifted well and today is as well liked and almost as influential as his famous father.

The fans of course are interested in knowing what Coffroth will do for them this month. As soon as he landed in New York he was informed that he had been granted the February boxing permit and he immediately got on the job with the result that he has made arrangements to bring Owen Moran and "Tarzan" Tommy Murphy to the coast for a twenty round contest late in the month. Moran bested Matty Baldwin last evening and wiped out the stain against his record that Baldwin made by gaining a decision over him some few weeks ago.

Moran at that time was in poor condition and from the decisive manner in which he bested the Baldwin last evening it would seem that he is the better of the two by a good margin. Both Murphy and Moran are credited with having had the better of Ad Wolf in short contests, and should the German win the championship from Nelson the winner would make a great contest with the lad from Milwaukee. The other men Coffroth has on his string he will not use until later in the year.

WILLIS LIKES FIGHT GAME.

The city of Richmond has taken to the boxing game like a duck does to water. Last night at a meeting of the city council the following resolution was adopted by the unanimous vote of the city fathers:

"Be it resolved by the council of the city of Richmond as follows: "That the committee consisting of business men of this city, appointed to secure rules and accommodations for the contest to be held in this city on February 22, 1910, have their authority to act and the hearty co-operation of this council. Signed: E. A. Gove, E. M. Kilgore, J. L. De Windt, H. B. Kinney, L. D. Windtman."

It is the first time in my experience that this has been done and for my part I can not quite understand it. To be insured for $1000 for a good old fight is a novelty, to be sure, but at that it would seem that the fighters are protecting their forfeit money in case anything should happen to me. The insurance money is purely and simply a forfeit money and if the fighters want this protection I suppose they should have it.

FLYNN BESTS LANGFORD.

Jim Flynn bested Sam Langford last night at Los Angeles. I really do not know whether to laugh or to cry. The natural feeling among those who have seen both men in action, and especially those who witnessed the last fight between the pair, would be to feel that the men had reached the point where they were going to pass snap judgment, for it is both unjust and foolish to try and criticize from this distance. We are willing to say, however, that the reversal of form should be investigated by the judges in a manner figures to beat Langford unless the tar baby has gone back a good deal since we last saw him.

WILLIS TO MEET BURNS.

The Oakland Wheelmen will have to make another switch in their card for the coming show of next Wednesday. Jim Barry at the last moment demanded more money than was out of season and the matchmaker, Mel Moffitt, has signed Joe Willis to meet Jack Burns in the place of "Gunboat" Smith. Willis is credited with having the better of Jim Flynn for the first five rounds of the contest and before Flynn out-roughed him and the Los Angeles fans are very anxious to have him come back there for another try at the fighting fireman.

The San Mateo district attorney has said that so long as he is in power he will not allow any more boxing contests in the county. Whether or not he can make this stick we are not in a position to state. The stand he has taken is the result of a long and bitter fight and not because the game is bad and it is another example of how badly the game is really managed and how politics will eventually kill it unless something is done to save it.

The people of Richmond have made up their minds to give the public the best transportation possible, and already Mayor Willis has been in communication with the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific officials and has been assured by the companies that they will do all in their power to make the big affair between Nelson and Volganst a success. The arena is to be built as near to the ferry landing as possible and the council has gone on record as saying that the streets and sidewalks leading to it will be put in the best possible shape and the mission treated as they should be.

The Mission Club officials have been lucky in picking up with the people of Richmond and it now looks as if the contest will be a huge success. Yesterday the managers of Volganst and Nelson met and selected the writer as referee for the coming battle, and to my great surprise I have been informed that I am to have my life insured for $10,000, half of which is to go to each man in case I should decide to leave this earth before the contest comes off.

Cy Moreing Trying To Sell the Oakland State League Team

Cy Moreing was in San Francisco yesterday anxiously endeavoring to dispose of his holdings in the Oakland State League, which he is now the owner. An appointment which Moreing made with some Oakland people who talked of taking over the control of the team did not materialize, but it is said that they will hold a conference with Moreing today.

FLYNN BESTS LANGFORD.

Jim Flynn bested Sam Langford last night at Los Angeles. I really do not know whether to laugh or to cry. The natural feeling among those who have seen both men in action, and especially those who witnessed the last fight between the pair, would be to feel that the men had reached the point where they were going to pass snap judgment, for it is both unjust and foolish to try and criticize from this distance. We are willing to say, however, that the reversal of form should be investigated by the judges in a manner figures to beat Langford unless the tar baby has gone back a good deal since we last saw him.

WILLIS TO MEET BURNS.

The Oakland Wheelmen will have to make another switch in their card for the coming show of next Wednesday. Jim Barry at the last moment demanded more money than was out of season and the matchmaker, Mel Moffitt, has signed Joe Willis to meet Jack Burns in the place of "Gunboat" Smith. Willis is credited with having the better of Jim Flynn for the first five rounds of the contest and before Flynn out-roughed him and the Los Angeles fans are very anxious to have him come back there for another try at the fighting fireman.

HAMMERED DOOR AS OFFICIALS FLEE

Shareholders in Nevada Mine Incensed By Action of President

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—When a band of fifty resolute shareholders of the Best & Belcher Mining Company battered at the door of the company's office, room 748 Mills building, yesterday afternoon, seeking admittance and redress at the hands of the president, Mr. Ferdinand Butterfield, scenes of the fiercest fighting in control during the mining stock crash of earlier days were re-enacted.

In defiance of the president's decision that the annual meeting was adjourned, the stockholders, locked out of the inner office of the company, held an informal session, at which a new corps of officers and directors were elected and a telegram sent to agents in Virginia City to seize control of the mining property.

The insurgents, in control, will attempt to legalize their act in the courts. When the meeting was called the stockholders assembled in an outer office, at the request of President Butterfield. A roll call announced that 90,000 of the 108,000 shares of the company were represented in person and by proxy.

MEETING ADJOURNED.
The flash of the president's hidden card disrupted the meeting. He declared that a quorum was not present, as notice of proxy must be filed with the secretary fifteen days before the annual meeting. Then the meeting was suddenly adjourned. President Butterfield and Secretary Agur, grabbing the records, rushed into the private office, slamming the door in the faces of the stockholders and locked it, while many pounded and kicked on the door, demanding that they be let in. In the tumult the president and the secretary went through a side door and disappeared from the building. The militant majority then held a session of its own. A. Waterman was elected secretary and W. H. Moise, A. F. Coffin, B. F. Shaw, William Bannan and H. Ziegler were elected directors for the year. When the stockholders adjourned the following officers were elected at a meeting of the directors: W. H. Moise, president; A. F. Coffin, vice-president; and J. B. Shaw, secretary.

THREATENS TO KILL HIS FAMILY; POLICE CALLED

ALAMEDA, Feb. 9.—After threatening to kill all the members of his family, J. Trotter, 1423 Sixteenth street, was arrested in bed last night when the police came to his home and advised them to get a warrant out if they wanted to arrest him. Trotter was arrested on a charge of insanity brought by his son, G. Trotter, about a week ago. At this time, Trotter was placed in a detention ward in the Receiving hospital, pending his examination by the lunacy commission. He was released without appearing before the commission on his promise that he would not annoy his family again.

Trotter is said to be a heavy drinker. He appeared to be rational when the police went to the house last night and he refused to be taken to the hospital. The blue coats could show a warrant. The son indicated that he would prefer to have Trotter committed against his father today.

HIGH APPRAISEMENT OF AN ANGLE TOOTH

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9.—Three thousand dollars was awarded Dr. W. Pell by Judge James today for having swallowed a tooth while under an anesthetic in a dentist's chair about three years ago.

In August, 1907, Pell went to Dr. A. A. Shaw to have three teeth extracted. An anesthetic was given him. After recovering and leaving the dentist's chair Pell complained of a severe pain in his chest. The doctor told him to take a few long breaths and the pain would disappear. But it did not.

Pell almost at once developed severe cough and his chest was variously diagnosed as bronchial trouble and incipient tuberculosis. His health began rapidly to fail and he went to Arizona.

After two years, during a severe fit of coughing, Pell brought from his lungs the root of a tooth.

Young Wife's Cruelty Drives General to Divorce Court

M. R. S. EMMA A. MILLER.

FRANKLIN, Pa., Feb. 8.—Alleging cruel treatment on the part of his beautiful wife, General Charles Miller has brought suit for divorce from Mrs. Emma Miller, club woman and general social favorite. General Miller is reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in this vicinity. When he was married to his present wife, six years ago, he made her a wedding present of $50,000 and his lavish gifts since, have been the subject of common gossip.

The first intimation that all was not running smoothly at the handsome home of the couple came six months ago, when Mrs. Miller, after what is said to have been a particularly heated quarrel, packed up a dozen or more trunks and departed for Long Beach, with a retinue of servants, which made even the habitation of that fashionable watering place sit up and take notice.

She returned after a few weeks but difficulties have been simmering steadily since then, it is asserted, and news of the divorce comes in the guise of a climax.

The note left by the suicide to his wife, and written in the Russian language, has been translated as follows:

"Dear Bertha—I see that I do not get any better. That is the reason I will end my life. You must see to make the best of your life with little Martha. Rent yourself a small house and you will make enough with working for your needs.

Be good to Martha and somebody will lend you enough money that you can bury me or till you get money from the ranch. Goodbye. Roman."

LAWYER REFUTES CHARGE IN BRIEF

Boynton Replies to Opposing Counsel Who Alleged a Shady Transaction

What threatened to be a sensation in the suit of J. J. Mularkey against J. H. Young when it was called again this morning in Judge Wast's department of the Superior Court terminated in a mild proceeding and the case was very quietly submitted on briefs.

Young was sued by Mularkey for $3000 as damages for alleged breach of contract to transfer certain property. Attorney's Love and Love representing Mularkey, charged at a previous appearance in court that Attorney C. C. Boynton, representing Young, was trying to do some shady work and today Boynton replied under oath to opposing counsel.

BOYNTON TESTIFIES.

Boynton testified that Young had received $200 as a deposit on the contract. Then trouble arose between Mularkey and Mularkey and the latter brought suit. Afterward Boynton offered either to return the $200 or to take the contract and declared that Mularkey and his attorneys refused to consider either proposition, claiming that they would rather proceed in their effort to collect $2000 damages.

As they (opposing counsel) would insist to be paid to do justice, Attorney Boynton, "there was nothing to do but battle. I endeavored to maneuver my client into the best possible position and then went in and cleaned the opposition out. Judge Melvin sustained our demand for their complaint without leave to amend. They appealed to the Supreme Court and again lost. They would now like to get the $300 back. They have had the job of this fight, but in the meantime, I think, they have forfeited any right to the return of that money. In other words, I am inclined to think that they have ranged themselves with their own legal rope."

Chicago Americans To Start Coastward Within a Fortnight

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—The Chicago American League Club will probably start on its training trip to California February 28.

President O'Neill of the Western League, who went west to arrange for the invasion of California by the Chicago Americans, returned yesterday. He brought back glowing accounts of the trip that the squad will take and while no definite dates as to exhibition games were given, it was announced that the players plan to arrive in California and not on sleeping cars for several successive nights at a time.

C. C. Connelley has the trip to the northwest to decide upon, but gossip about baseball headquarters yesterday indicated that the squad will start on the homeward journey within a fortnight over the Southern route, the same as in the two years previous.

Dies Abroad, Leaving San Francisco Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—Jean Baptiste Francois Prelus, French Socialist Leader, when properly pronounced, is the name of a San Franciscan who died at his birthplace, Le Ganteir, France, December 8, 1909, leaving an estate in this city valued at about $50,000.

In the probate department of the Superior Court today Theodore P. Murphy filed a petition for appointment as executor of the estate, as provided in the will of the deceased, made October 10, 1906. The petition recites that the estate is composed of $3000 owing the testator on promissory notes, signed by various French residents of the city, and realty located at Dupont and Green streets, Montgomery, near Jackson street, and Folson street, near Spear.

PROTEST PAYMENT OF SEWER RENTS

Elmhurst Residents Object to Charges Made by Land Company

A protest is made by a number of property owners on the Stone tract, near Elmhurst, against being called upon to pay rentals to the company that sold them their lots for sewer service. The company has of late been sending out notices to certain of the house owners connected with the sewer system that they must pay rentals of from $5 to $15 a year or find an outlet for their sewage waste into their directions.

Connelman, teacher, acting as sponsor for the complainants in the matter, will request that an investigation be made into the right of the sewer owners to make the charges, as it is claimed the system is laid on public streets.

The property owners declare that when they purchased their lots in the tract several years ago it was with the understanding that the property was sewer and that there were to be no extra charges placed upon them for the use of the sewer except the cost of connections.

They voted bonds for the formation of a sanitary district, and while the sewer system projected by Oakland city section has not yet been built, they are compelled to pay the tax as well as the rentals to the Stone company.

The Stone tract owners declare that they expended $10,000 in constructing the sewer and that they are entitled to have its up-keep borne by a proportionate rental or assessment on the users of it.

Assistant City Attorney Clifford W. H. O'Brien declares that if the streets through which the sewer is laid have become public thoroughfares, by prescription or otherwise, the Stone company cannot compel those connecting with it to pay any rentals or other charges.

'Big Eight' Experts Will Pass on Football Rules

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Western football coaches and faculty members are to have another fling at the 1910 football rules. Coach A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, member of the National Rules committee, announced yesterday that the "Big Eight" experts would be sought before the next meeting of the national body, March 25, at New York.

The conference professors and the football officials will have a chance to pass on the suggestions drawn in New York last year. The committee will be more valuable now that modifications have been somewhat formulated. Should the conference opinion develop, a meeting of the "Big Eight" officials will be held in Chicago to discuss proposed changes.

William Williams, of Minnesota, and Coach Stagg of Chicago, western members of the national committee, are present to receive advice and suggestions from any source.

CHIEF OF POLICE MARTIN HONOR GUEST AT BANQUET

Some 200 Friends of New Head of San Francisco Department Aid in Presentation of Jeweled Badge of Office

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9. — John B. Martin, new chief of police of San Francisco, was the guest at a banquet given in his honor last evening by 200 of his friends and he was presented with a diamond-studded, solid gold badge of office by Mayor P. It was formed of pink carnations, lilacs of the valley and wine-colored autumn leaves. A large blacksmith's anvil was worked with these flowers into the design which contained a succession of panels bearing on each side the following words: "Blacksmith, Patrolman, Sergeant, Lieutenant, Captain, Chief." The badge and floral design were gifts of friends without and within the police department.

HILL TO BUILD ROAD INTO KLAMATH FALLS

PORTLAND, Feb. 9.—That the Oregon trunk line will build to Klamath Falls this year is the announcement made by Charles H. Carey of Carey & Kerr, attorneys for the line, who has returned from Chicago, New York and other Eastern cities.

It is also announced that the Hill interests have filed with the Interior department at Washington, D. C., application for a right of way through the Klamath Indian reservation. Township filings have also been made at Lakeview.

Extension of the Oregon trunk to Klamath Falls will practically give the Hill interests connection with San Francisco in that by running a short stretch of line from Klamath Falls to Alturas direct connection may be established with the Western Pacific, the Gould transcontinental line, which is now nearing completion through the Sacramento valley to Alturas in Northern California.

"The Oregon trunk will build to Klamath Falls this summer," Carey, "and trains from central Oregon will be connecting with the Northbank road for Portland and other points in the Pacific Northwest as soon as we can get the bridge across the Columbia river at Collio completed. Work on the bridge will be rushed as rapidly as possible and the intention is to have the road to Klamath ready for operation by the time the bridge is completed."

DON'T LIKE NAME OF 'LEMON' AVE.

San Leandro Residents Ask
Trustees to Change Name of Thoroughfare

SAN LEANDRO, Feb. 9.—Because the name "Lemon" avenue does not appeal to the residents thereon as being proper and because other people are inclined to believe that they are joking when they give their place of residence as being upon the above named thoroughfare, people who abide upon that avenue in San Leandro last night appealed to the Board of Trustees to officially rename the street to abolish the name of "Lemon" and to dub the thoroughfare "Euclid avenue" instead.

Residents along Lemon avenue lived in peace and contentment until some time ago when the term "Lemon" an incongruity. They thought the bad application of the phrase would soon pass by. It still sticks, and in their application last night it was declared that it was very likely to be known as a way for expressing contempt for many years to come. Hence the request for a change. Euclid avenue the residents along the thoroughfare say is a very appropriate name and hardly likely to fall into disrepute which attends the street's present cognomen. It is probable that the board of trustees will comply with their request.

IS AN INCONGRUITY.

The board at a meeting last night refused to grant a saloon license to J. F. Murphy to open a saloon at the corner of San Leandro road and Dais avenue. They also refused to consider the granting of a license to Schatter & Chase, the owners of the closed Bridge saloon which was closed as the result of a watch being kept upon it by detectives hired by the temperance advocates in San Leandro.

The board declared at their meeting last night that a straw vote would be taken at the next election to determine whether the people wanted the present saloon license raised. It is proposed to make it $1000 instead of $250, the present price.

WILL TEST U. S. RIGHT TO CHARGE FOR WATER

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 9.—Under a law enacted by the State of Colorado, Attorney General Barnett is preparing to test in court the right of the government forestry service to collect conservative charges from power companies, manufacturers, farmers and others using the water of mountain streams for power purposes.

The attorney general contends that if the government has a right to make such charges it has an equal right to charge farmers for use of water for irrigation. He further contends the regulation of streams is vested solely in the State.

ASKS APPROPRIATION FOR HOSPITAL AT PRESIDIO

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Representative Kahn has introduced a bill asking that $250,000 be appropriated for the purchase of a site for a new army general hospital in San Francisco and $500,000 for the erection of the hospital buildings.

"It is a well known fact that the United States government is willing to expend a large sum of money, approximately $6,000,000, for the improvement of the Presidio.

"However, refuses to appropriate this amount for the improvement of the Presidio until the present general hospital buildings are removed."

LAWYERS TO FIGHT TELEPHONE TRUST

Missouri and Ohio Attorneys in
New York to Oppose
Alleged Combine

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A group of determined lawyers from the aggressive states of Missouri and Ohio have just reached New York prepared to tackle what they term the telephone trust.

In its strictly legal form, the case at issue is based on the suit of stockholders in the United States Telephone Company and the Cuyahoga Telephone Company, who obtained in the state courts at Cleveland an injunction restraining the transfer and delivery of stock in those independent companies bought a few months ago by J. P. Morgan & Company.

The lawyers came to New York to take depositions. The states which they represent take the position that they must be shown that the purchase by Mr. Morgan of six telephone companies in Ohio and Indiana was strictly for himself and not for the Bell interests.

The legal army includes Thomas Harlan of St. Louis, Samuel E. Jeffreys of St. Louis and H. D. McGraw of Cleveland and John D. Hostetter, representing the attorney-general of Missouri. Representing the Bell interests are S. H. Toles of Cleveland, Clarence Brown of Toledo and George B. Leverett.

Later he was arraigned before Supreme Court Justice Goff and was held in $1000 bail for trial.

CHINN BERETTA

—A device that prevents your glasses from breaking

Free to everyone—Bring in your glasses.

—We have perfected a little rubber washer to fit into the screw hole of nose glasses where the lens is attached to the frame.

—This washer protects breakage at the fatally weak spot (across the screw hole), and 98 times out of 100 will save your glasses from destruction.

—We call them the "C. B." cushion, and although so small as to be invisible when in place we consider their invention one of the most important discoveries in the optical business.

—We desire to put 10,000 sets of these "C. B." cushions into use at once and in order to introduce them will, for thirty days, furnish and attach them to any one's glasses free.

—We particularly invite strangers and non-customers to take advantage of this offer, as it serves as such a splendid example of "C. B." service.

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."
